

St. Louis Gateway Arch Trivia

Both the width and height of the arch are 630 feet (192 m). The arch is the tallest memorial in the United States and the tallest stainless steel monument in the world.

The cross-sections of the arch's legs are equilateral triangles, narrowing from 54 feet (16 m) per side at the bases to 17 feet (5.2 m) per side at the top. Each wall consists of a stainless steel skin covering a sandwich of two carbon steel walls with reinforced concrete in the middle from ground level to 300 feet (91 m), with carbon steel to the peak. The arch is hollow to accommodate a unique tram system that takes visitors to an observation deck at the top.

In January 1970, amid frigid temperatures, the arch shrunk 3 inches (7.6 cm). Jefferson National Expansion Memorial superintendent Harry Pfanz said the contraction was normal in cold weather and that safety was not at risk.

The structural load is supported by a stressed-skin design. Each leg is embedded in 25,980 short tons (23,570 t) of concrete 44 feet (13 m) thick and 60 feet (18 m) deep. Twenty feet of the foundation is in bedrock. The arch is resistant to earthquakes and is designed to sway up to 9 inches (23 cm) in either direction while withstanding winds up to 150 miles per hour (240 km/h). The structure weighs 42,878 short tons (38,898 t), of which concrete comprises 25,980 short tons (23,570 t); structural steel interior, 2,157 short tons (1,957 t); and the stainless steel panels that cover the exterior of the arch, 886 short tons (804 t). This amount of stainless steel is the most used in any one project in history. The base of each leg at ground level had to have an engineering tolerance of $\frac{1}{64}$ inches (0.40 mm) or the two legs would not meet at the top!

Courtney Painter Supreme Bethel Honored Queen

I would like to personally welcome you to this year's Supreme Session. More than 525,600 minutes have passed by since we were all together at last year's Supreme Session. My year as Supreme Bethel Honored Queen 2010-2011 is coming to an end, but all good and majestic things must come to an end, and I can sincerely say that this past year has been a once in a lifetime experience for me. I'm so excited that I get to spend this last week of my term with each and every one of you.

I have found so much love and support from the girls everywhere I traveled, from all the friendships new and old, and great memories to last me a lifetime. I feel extremely honored and blessed to have been your Supreme Bethel Honored Queen this past year. I have acquired so much from this wonderful organization, that one day I hope that I can return the acts of kindness and continue to support our organization.

I will never forget that because of this past year I had the pleasure to travel to a number of places that on my own I would have never seen. This past year has taught me something and that is we may hail from different countries, states, provinces, towns, and neighborhoods, are all different and unique, may look different, talk a little funny or different, or even vary in the daily tasks that we perform, when you dive below the surface of our cultural superfluties, we are all Job's Daughters in mind and heart, and we are the fairest in the land—and never forget that!

This past year has been a year of dreaming bigger than ever not only for me but as well as all Job's Daughters. I want to ask every Daughter to keep Dreaming Big because I believe that if you can dream it, you can achieve it, and do not let anyone tell you otherwise! I encourage every Daughter to dream big and to shoot for the moon, and if you're lucky, you will land among the stars.

This year would not have been possible without the support from my family, friends, my Supreme Family, Delaware Job's Daughters, my home Bethel, Bethel # 5, located in Georgetown, Delaware, and the support from every single one of you. You girls were my motivation this entire year and for that I want to personally thank every one of the Daughters for your support.

Over this past year I was fortunate and privileged to travel with Mom Toni, Dad Rick Mom Linda, and Aline. To my Supreme family: we always had fun no matter where we were, and I will always cherish all the memories that we have made and continue to make. I trust the next Supreme team will have nothing but the best of luck, smooth sailing and happy times on the road yet to come. Just remember that with great times and happy memories, a year goes by faster than you may realize. I know that with hard work and dedication and support from everyone, you will do amazing things for this organization.

I would like to leave you with one of my favorite quotes from this year, "Many people will walk in and out of your life, but only true friends will leave footprints in your heart."

Sincere Jobie Love,
Courtney Painter
