

Job's Daughters International, currently celebrating its 100th anniversary, is a non-profit organization that relies on donations from our communities. Funds collected benefit the girls through scholarships, financial assistance, alleviate costs on families, and multiple statewide events to bring the members together.

“There is nothing more worthwhile than giving what you can to a cause you care deeply about.”

“When you invest in Job’s Daughters, you invest in the leaders of tomorrow.”

Job’s Daughters’ mission is to create confident young women, respecting tradition, and shaping the future. Our members learn invaluable skills that increase their confidence and prepare them to lead. We teach girls to use their voice.

we celebrate the power of girls around the world

Let’s seize the opportunity to reimagine a better world inspired by adolescent girls – energized and recognized, counted and invested in.

Alicia L., Miss Missouri Job’s Daughters 2019-2021-

“During the past 9 years that I have been involved with Job's Daughters, I have grown a lot. Job's Daughters has given me so many opportunities to become a strong leader and gain confidence. I was very shy and quiet when I first joined, but as I progressed through the stations in my bethel I learned confidence. I have also gained an incredible support system through the order. I have made friends, not just within my own Bethel, but across the state and other jurisdictions. These friendships have helped me in every decision I have made, because I know that they will support me no matter what. Job's Daughters has given me not only best friends, but sisters who I can count on. “
